This volume offers an intriguing look into the world of late medieval martial arts, from wrestling to swordsmanship and to the subtle tricks that could be employed when jousting on horseback. Using exceptional pen drawings (with gold leaf highlights) the book features some of the most interesting abstracts from Fior di Battaglia (The Flower of Battle), a manuscript by the renowned Italian fencing master Fiore dei Liberi depicting the knightly arts of fighting. The copy in the collection of the J. Paul Getty Museum, created in the early 15th-century, is the finest and most complete manuscript to survive. Offering detailed visual documentation of Fiore's techniques coupled with the author's genius for explaining sophisticated methods of offense and defence, the manuscript provides a comprehensive record of the skills by which men lived and died in the Middle Ages.

Este livro é fruto da dissertação de mestrado acadêmico a qual investigou a implementação das Audiências de Custódia no Brasil sob os aspectos constitucionais, penais, econômicos, e iminentes. O estudo dedicou um capítulo para cada um destes quatro enfoques, sendo que os dois primeiros sintetizam os aspectos constitucionais e penais, e servem para embasar as discussões dos capítulos seguintes. No capítulo terceiro, o tema das Audiências de Custódia foi tratado sob a lógica do Law & Economics, e, no capítulo quatro, se discutiu questões iminentes sobre as Audiências: a forma de contagem de prazo; o uso de videoconferência para a realização das Audiências; e a possibilidade de atribuir aos Delegados de Polícia a capacidade de eles decretarem, precariamente, em caso de flagrante, medidas cautelares diversas da prisão.

In From Medieval Manuscript to Modern Practice, renowned historical swordsman Guy Windsor demystifies one of the greatest martial arts books of all time, Fiore dei Liberi's Il Fior di Battaglia (The Flower of Battle). In the late 14th century dei Liberi, an Italian knightly combat master, wrote Il Fior di Battaglia (The Flower of Battle). This magnificent, illustrated manuscript described how to fight on foot and on horseback, in armour and without, with sword, spear, pollax, dagger, or with no weapon at all. Windsor spent the last twenty years studying Fiore's work and creating a modern practice of historical swordsmanship from it. In this book, Windsor takes you through all of Fiore's longsword techniques on foot without armour. Each technique (or "play") is shown with the drawing from the treatise, Windsor's transcription and translation of the text, his commentary on how it fits into the system and works in practice, and a link to a video of the technique in action. The book also contains a detailed introduction describing Fiore's life and times, and extensive discussion of the contexts in which Fiore's art belongs. From Medieval Manuscript to Modern Practice is essential reading for all martial artists and historians of the medieval and early Renaissance.
